

LEAPED

SIXTY FEET FROM CLEVELAND BRIDGE.

HIS DEATH WAS INSTANTANEOUS

Leg Bones Were Driven Through His Body—Sensational Suicide at Cleveland This Morning—Stomach was Cut of Money—Wanted to Go to the Exposition City.

Cleveland, O., July 11.—A man committed suicide in a sensational manner at 6 o'clock this morning. He leaped from the South Brooklyn bridge, sixty feet to the belt line railroad track below. He was instantly killed. Almost every bone in his body was broken and his leg bones were driven through his body. The man is supposed to be Levy L. Slocum. A card bearing that name from the Screwdrivers and Bicycle workers' union No. 42, of Detroit, and another bearing the same name from Amity lodge No. 335, I. O. O. F., of Detroit, were found on his person. The man had been stopping at Kepler's boarding house on Pearl street. He was heard to remark yesterday that if he did not get money enough to go to Buffalo he would kill himself by jumping from the South Brooklyn bridge.

DISCOVERED

That He Was Being Swindled Says Mr. McDonald—Columbus Man's Troubles.

Hillsdale, Mich., July 11.—J. P. McDonald of Columbus, O., has caused the arrest on a capias of D. W. Gunn, ex-Registrar of Deeds; A. B. Cummins and N. D. Smith, all prominent citizens of Hillsdale, on the charge of swindling him out of $8,000 in a hog cholera deal. McDonald in his affidavit says he purchased 500 shares in the Hillsdale Manufacturing Company for $2,600, and that later Gunn approached him with a plan to invest money in a company to exploit a hog cholera cure; that Gunn declared two Friday (Ohio) men named Burket and Truby had the formula, having invested $7,500 in it, and that A. B. Cummins knew all the parties, guaranteeing everything to be all right. On January 1, 1900, Burket and Truby met McDonald here, together with Gunn and Cummins.

They induced McDonald to turn over his Hillsdale Manufacturing Company stock, so he says, the others taking stock in the B. T. Hog Cholera Company, for which, McDonald asserts, they paid nothing. McDonald was to be secretary. The company was to have been incorporated under West Virginia laws. According to the affidavit, Cummins induced McDonald to buy nine more shares at a cost of $900 to get a controlling interest. All parties agreed not to dispose of their stock without the consent of the others. At this point Smith appeared and offered $150 a share, giving the impression that the stock was appreciating in value. Letters were then received from Congressman A. B. Cummins of Iowa, offering $200,000 for the right to sell the cure in Iowa, and from others of a similar nature. McDonald alleges that Cummins next came to him, and induced him to give up $4,500 for Cummins's stock, the latter desiring the money to pay a personal obligation.

McDonald gave it up, Cummins promising to pay him back in 90 days with an endowment policy for $6,000, which would then come due. McDonald alleges that Gunn tried to sell him some worthless land in West Virginia, but he was getting wise, and sent a brother down there to investigate. This caused him to investigate his other investments with the result that his hog cholera company boom was pricked. He claims Truby and Burket were stool pigeons. The defendants claim they went into the company in good faith, and are also victims.

QUEER ACTIONS

OF A MAN BADLY FRIGHTENED MRS. SHALER.

Brother Hearing of Affair, Hurt His Hand and Another in Excitement Went to Hebron.

About four o'clock Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Shaler, wife of Mr. D. M. Shaler, of the Shaler Manufacturing company, of this city, was doing some ironing in the dining room of her home, on West Church street, when she heard a knocking at the door on the porch. She was busy and paid no attention to it, and the man went around the house and came back on the porch and knocked more violently than ever on the door. As Mrs. Shaler was not ready to go to the door, and was not expecting callers, she waited a moment to arrange her toilet. The man, whoever it was, who was doing the knocking, seemed to become impatient and cut a hole in the glass of the window on the porch immediately over the catch that fastened the window down. Mrs. Shaler then became frightened and began to scream, which frightened the man, and he hastily took his departure, and the last Mrs. Shaler saw of him he was walking rapidly north on Sixth street.

Mrs. Shaler describes the man who cut the hole in the window as being five feet nine inches in height, dark complexion, smooth face and wearing a heavy brown suit of clothes and a soiled straw hat.

Officer Rinehart was notified and made an arrest but the person did not answer the description of the man wanted and as Mrs. Shaler could not identify him he was discharged.

As a result of the man's mysterious actions, W. F. Shaler, a brother of D. M. Shaler, who was working on a machine at the manufactory, became excited and caught his thumb and forefinger in the machinery, badly mangle them.

Another brother, Mr. F. L. Shaler, whose home is in Hebron, by mistake hearing of the occurrence at his brother's home, thought it was at his own home in Hebron and drove clear out there before he discovered his mistake.

NONE SUSPECTED

That Glenn Was a Woman Says a Witness--Prisoner Made to Doff Hat--Witnesses Positive Ellis and Bert Were the Same.

Parkersburg, W. Va., July 11.—The Glenn mystery is still unsolved and the court room is crowded by those who are present to hear evidence in the celebrated trial.

Witnesses so far have all agreed in identifying the present Ellis Glenn, the woman on trial for forgery as Elbert Glenn, the man who once acted as a hotel clerk, butcher, real estate agent, etc. and supposed to be a forger. This seems to clear up that part of the mystery which credited Ellis Glenn with a twin brother, Elbert.

The defense seems to have laid the foundation for two strong points in the Ellis Glenn case, which, while not yet fully developed, promises to cause the prosecution a good deal of annoyance, these two points are that Elbert Glenn while living at Williamsstown, was a severe gash in his hand on the sharp edge of a beef bone in the meat shop where he was employed, which must necessarily have left a scar. The other is that Elbert Glenn did not limp, but no imperfection in his gait and was generally considered sound in limb and perfect in form.

These two points have been emphasized in the examination of every witness placed upon the stand, and their purport is apparent. The defense will show, when Miss Glenn goes on the stand, that she has no scar on her hand such as the gash described would have left, and that she has one leg two inches longer than its mate, and walks with a very apparent limp.

So far these are the principal points relied upon by the defense to prove that Ellis Glenn is not the same person as Elbert Glenn, who was at Williamsstown at the time of the alleged forgery. On the other hand, the state has produced three witnesses all of whom had known Elbert Glenn intimately for many months during his residence at Williamsstown, and all of whom are positive in their testimony that Elbert Glenn and Ellis Glenn, whether in trousers or dress, are one and the same person.

"I don't know," said C. M. Mayhew on the witness stand, "whether Bert Glenn was a woman or not, and I do not know that the prisoner here is a woman, even if she does wear dresses but I do know that the prisoner here, whether man or woman, is the same person I knew in Williamsstown by the name of Elbert Glenn, and whom I then supposed to be a man."

Mr. Mayhew, who is a prominent oil producer, lived in Williamsstown while Glenn was there and saw him almost every day for nearly a year. Glenn had often shared him, and he became well acquainted with Glenn's form and figure.

From the hips up, Mr. Mayhew said that Ellis Glenn was the exact counterpart of Elbert Glenn. The face could not be mistaken, and the eyes in particular, which are rather peculiar, were so much like Elbert Glenn's that there could be no mistake. He said that Bert Glenn had a low, soft voice, small hands and feet, and never wore mustache or beard. That Mr. Mayhew might secure a better view the state asked that the Court direct Glenn to take off her hat.

This provoked a long wrangle among the attorneys, but the Court finally directed her to uncover her head. Off came the hat, and Miss Glenn, with her hair done up closely upon her head and none too long looked much more mannish than with her feminine headgear. Mr. Mayhew became even more positive when he saw her barehead. The head, the nose, the eyes, her whole countenance and contour were the same, he testified.

As to her being lame, he said he had seen her at her boarding house some time ago and she did not appear lame at that time. Whether the defense will be able to prove the lameness remains to be seen.

George Hoover, whose name is signed to the alleged forged note and whose home Bert Glenn boarded for six months or more, was the other witness examined today. He was positive Ellis Glenn was the same person as Elbert Glenn. He said he had never had his hands on Glenn and was not sure if he had that he could tell whether he or she was a woman.

He said Glenn courted several young women, walked and acted like a man, but he did not know positively whether he was a man or not. He did know, however, that Ellis Glenn was the same person. Glenn roomed part of the time with men while at his home, and so far as he knew none of them ever suspected that he was a woman.

One point was raised which may affect the verdict as to the forgery, although it will not satisfy the public's curiosity as to Ellis Glenn's identity. Hoover identified a note for $400 he had given Glenn, which had later been taken up and paid.

He denied signing the $1,400 note, which was shown in court. He identified the deed of trust given to secure the $1,400 note, but testified that the deed of trust had been changed without his knowledge from $400 to $1,400. The name of the trustee had also been changed from W. B. Beeson to Thomas Prettyman.

In this was the strong point for the defense, for Hoover said that after the deed of trust had been signed and acknowledged with Beeson as trustee, Glenn came to him and said that as Beeson had taken the acknowledgments on the deed of trust he could not also act as trustee, and suggested that Prettyman's name be substituted which was done.

The defense will no doubt claim in the proper time that as the deed of trust was changed after the acknowledgments were taken it had no value and therefore changing the amount does not constitute a forgery. It will be a nice legal point to argue. Interest in the case does not subside. The mystery is still unsolved.

REVIEW

OF THE DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

TICKET NAMED AT COLUMBUS.

It was Nearly Five O'clock Before the Ticket was Completed—Tax Reforms Kansas City Platform Denied Recognition—Full Text of Platform—Review of Convention's Proceedings.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For Governor—James Kilbourne, Franklin. Lieutenant Governor—Anthony Howells, Stark. Judge Supreme Court—C. R. Young, Cuyahoga. Attorney General—M. B. McCarthy, Lucas. State Treasurer—R. P. Aleshire, Gallia. Member Board of Public Works—James B. Holman, Brown.

Columbus, O., July 11.—Through the heat of the day, from 10 o'clock in the morning till nearly 5 o'clock in the evening, the state Democratic convention toiled and sweated until its work was finished. It was a day of excitement, which witnessed the unhorsing of Joseph H. Dowling, the renunciation of William J. Bryan, the promulgation of new issues in the name of Democracy, the rejection of Frank S. Monnett as an aspirant for recognition on the ticket in return for his conversion to Democracy a year ago in support of Mr. Bryan's candidacy for president, and the defeat of some men of unbroken party affiliations who had been most prominently mentioned as candidates during the past year.

No issue before the delegates was contested with so much spirit and determination as the construction of the party platform. It will be seen by studying the pronouncements that the followers of Mayor Tom L. Johnson won a victory for their views on the question of taxation, while the conservative element scored a victory on national issues. There is no mention of previous platforms or of Bryan. The sub-committee of seven that drafted the platform stood four to three in favor of the conservatives, but the full committee rejected both the majority and the minority reports and then picked out such parts of each as were voted in section by section. The full committee did not stand the same on all sections or planks. The three planks of the Johnson men on franchises, steam and electric railways and corporation taxation were adopted as amendments to the majority report of the subcommittee and then the resolutions as amended were adopted, so that the minority report of the full committee practically became the major report of the full committee and things were generally reversed from what had previously been the course of the convention.

Previously to the assembling of the convention, there was unusual agitation among the delegates. C. P. Salen, a member of Mayor Johnson's cabinet at Cleveland had been continued as permanent chairman and other friends of Johnson had secured the taxation resolutions that were wanted. There was much talk about the Kilbourne and McLean men having differences, but it became evident later on that the Johnson men had won the taxation issue without any other changes.

After the adoption of the rules and order of business, the report on credentials was submitted by Chairman Saltzgaber, seating the Dowling delegates from Montgomery, the McCloud delegates from Union, the Buckley delegates from Portage and the Mason delegates from Butler county. E. H. Moore presented a minority report signed by seven of the 21 members of the committee to seat the anti-Dowling delegates from Montgomery, and an animated scene followed over this contest, which involved the local power of J. H. Dowling, and which has been precipitated into the state convention for several years.

Thomas Galvin moved as a substitute for both reports that both delegates be seated with half votes each and that next year the state committee take charge of the Democratic primaries in Montgomery county, ignoring local committees of both Dowling and the anti-Dowling factions.

Tamilton county voted 14 ayes and six nays, and this caused much applause from the anti-Dowling men who were greatly surprised at the McLean men voting with the Johnson men from Cleveland, as Dowling had been considered one of the McLean leaders. When Dowling and his delegation gave up their seats, there was a wild scene. Dowling has been a leader in Montgomery county for 20 years and a delegate to state and national conventions for many years. He was oil inspector under Governor Campbell 10 years ago and revenue collector under President Cleveland.

Ex-Congressman J. F. Follett reported in favor of making permanent the temporary organization. Adopted. Chairman Salen acknowledged the honors with a bow. Hon. M. A. Daugherty reported the platform, which was adopted.

The reading of the Johnson plank on taxation was loudly applauded.

W. L. Finley of Kenton offered a substitute for the preamble of the platform reaffirming the Kansas City platform and expressing continued confidence in W. J. Bryan. He said he wanted to ascertain whether this was a Democratic convention and whether the Ohio Democrats were looking backwards. Finley's motion was overwhelming defeated, both by vive voice and standing votes, while Finley was yelling for a call of the counties. When the resolutions were adopted there were again three cheers for Tom Johnson.

CHOOSING CANDIDATES.

When Chairman Salen announced that nominations for governor were in order, the convention was swept with a wave of enthusiasm inaugurated by the followers of Colonel Kilbourne of Columbus.

When Clark county was reached in the call Judge F. M. Hagan of Springfield presented the name of John L. Zimmerman. Franklin county brought called, M. A. Daugherty, of Lancaster, presented the name of James Kilbourne.

The Kilbourne men had a demonstration when Daugherty came to the platform and repeated it when he concluded.

For Governor.

John L. Zimmerman then withdrew his name and moved the suspension of the rules for the nomination of Kilbourne by acclamation. This carried with repeated cheers for Kilbourne and Zimmerman, while the band struck up and the clubs paraded around the hall. A portrait of Kilbourne was displayed from the stage. While the demonstration continued John L. Zimmerman, L. G. Bernard and E. M. Heisley, as the committee, were escorting Kilbourne to the hall. When Colonel Kilbourne was escorted into the hall there was another demonstration and he accepted the nomination in an address of some length on pending issues.

James Kilbourne, Democratic candidate for governor of Ohio, was born in Columbus in 1841, graduated at Kenyon before the civil war and at Harvard Law school after the war, enlisted as a private and became a colonel. He is president of the Kilbourne and Jacobs Manufacturing company, has been president of the Ohio Centennial commission, the Columbus Board of Trade, public library, Children's Home, Guild and Associated Charities, director of banks and railways, vice president of the Army of the Tennessee and a member of other military organizations. He has never held public office and was never a candidate till two years ago, when he was defeated for the gubernatorial nomination by John R. McLean. He has been especially popular among workingmen and is an honorary member of the Columbus Trades and Labor assembly. For years he was the next door neighbor of the late Senator Allen G. Thurman and was his close counselor. His father formerly represented Columbus district in congress, and his grandfather was one of the earliest settlers of this city.

For Lieutenant Governor.

For lieutenant governor, the name of John F. Cassidy, mayor of Bellefontaine, was presented by H. T. McCracken, and of Anthony Howells, of Massillon by ex-Mayor James Rice, of Canton. Just before the ballot was completed, Cassidy's name was withdrawn and Howells was nominated by acclamation.

For Supreme Judge.

For supreme judge, the name of General E. B. Finley was presented by Judge J. W. Coulter, Judge Joseph Hidy of Washington C. H. by M. B. McIntyre, and of Samuel W. Courtwright of Circleville, William Thompson, much time being taken also in speeches seconding these presentations. The first ballot resulted as follows: Hidy 339, Finley 418, Courtwright 190, John F. Follett 3. No nomination. The names of Courtwright and Follett were withdrawn. Before the second ballot was completed, Hidy's nomination was made by acclamation on motion of General Finley.

For Clerk of Supreme Court.

For clerk of the supreme court, the name of Carey R. Young was presented by Samuel D. Dodge, of J. P. Mehaffey of Cambridge by Newton Turner, and of Justus B. Smoots of Mt. Vernon by F. C. Levering.

The first ballot for clerk of the supreme court resulted as follows: Young 508, Mehaffey 138, Smoots 304. The nomination was made unanimous.

For Attorney General.

For attorney general, the name of H. A. Mykranitz of Ashland was presented by L. C. Mengert, of Frank S. Monnett of Bucyrus by Judge Allen Smalley, and of M. B. McCarthy of Toledo by Negley D. Cochran, editor of the Toledo Bee. Judge W. T. Mooney made a most stirring speech in seconding the nomination of McCarthy. He insisted that it was not necessary to go outside the party to get an honest man or one able to cope with the trusts. This was considered as a blow at Monnett, who had served two terms as attorney general as a Republican. Judge W. T. Stillwell, in seconding the nomination of Monnett replied to Mooney. J. P. Seward, in seconding the nomination of Mykranitz, also wanted "a good and true Democrat." Just before the call of counties was completed Mykranitz withdrew his name. The ballot then resulted: McCarthy 614, Monnett 229, Mykranitz 107. The nomination of McCarthy was made unanimous.

For State Treasurer.

For treasurer of state the name of R. Page Aleshire of Gallipolis was presented by C. E. Peoples, and he was nominated by acclamation.

For Board of Public Works.

For member of board of public works the names of James B. Holman of Brown county and Fred G. Leete of Lawrence were placed in nomination. Leete withdrew before close of rollcall. The Rooster was adopted as the party emblem, and at 4:45 the convention adjourned sine die.

THE PLATFORM.

Following is the platform as reported by the majority of the committee on resolutions and adopted by the convention:

The Democrats of Ohio reaffirm their belief in an equality of taxation and other public burdens; their advocacy of the equal status of all the people with special privileges.

They believe in the right of every citizen to the enjoyment of industry, with its tendency on the one hand to crush out individual enterprise, and on the other to promote a socialistic spirit among the people as the only refuge from oppression; and their faith in that theory and practice of constitutional government which brought the nation into existence and have preserved it to the present generation.

For the promotion of these objects the Democratic party of Ohio makes the following declaration of principles and policies:

Municipal Reform.

The government of municipalities of the state should be radically reformed and wise general laws be enacted to correct abuses and prevent their recurrence.

Inefficient, expensive, unbusinesslike, partisan and corrupt, the system which has prevailed has encouraged the interference of the cities and the denial of home rule; has fostered special legislation and the imposition of burdensome taxes without the sanction of the people, and has brought about the corrupt employment of party leaders to secure valuable franchises without adequate compensation therefor, and to protect the owners of such franchises from public demands.

For the existence and continuance of these conditions the Republican party is responsible. Through the action of the last general assembly and the state administration, it defeated the "Revised Municipal Code," prepared by a nonpartisan commission, and calculated to produce real and lasting reforms.

The Democratic party therefore calls upon the people to unite with it in placing the conduct of municipal affairs upon a business basis, that they may be administered by the people on the principle of home rule. No franchise, extension or renewal thereof ever to be granted by any city or village without first submitting the same to a vote of the people.

The acceptance of free passes or other favors from railroads by public officers or employees shall be made adequate ground for vacating the offices held by them.

Taxation of Corporations.

All public service corporations shall be required by law to make sworn public reports, and the power and duty of visitation and public report shall be conferred upon the proper state or local auditing officers. The end that the true value of the privileges held by these corporations shall be made plain to the people.

Steam and electric railroads and other corporations possessing public franchises shall be assessed in the same proportion to their salable value as are farms and city real estate.

The Republican majority of the general assembly deserves the condemnation of the people for its reckless extravagance and the creation of useless offices, while it enacted no legislation for the benefit of the people. The present Republican administration in the management of public institutions has been the most costly in the history of the state. Its expenditures and public institutions should be conducted upon a nonpartisan and business basis.

The reserved rights of the state and people to be upheld. Centralization, which would destroy them, to be condemned. A strict construction of the constitution. The greatest individual liberty consistent with public order and welfare.

The Tariff.

Tariff reform, never more urgently demanded than now when the production of the country so far exceeds its power of consumption that foreign markets are a prime condition of its continued prosperity, and when the existence and abuses of trusts have been so clearly about by the policy of protection of favored industries. The abolition of the so-called protective system and the substitution in its place of the traditional Democratic policy of a tariff for revenue, so levied as not to burden one industry for the benefit of another.

The Trusts.

The enactment and rigorous enforcement of laws which shall prevent all monopolies and combinations in restraint of trade and commerce—the matter of first importance being to prevent the use of the government as an instrumentality for the creation and increase of the wealth of the few, while preserving intact the right of private property and the fullest measure of individual liberty of contract, and assuring to every man the just benefit of the superior industry and skill to demand the suppression of all trusts and a return to industrial freedom. As a means to that end all trust products should be placed on the free list, and the government should exercise a more rigid supervision of transportation lines and abolish, in fact, all discrimination in rates.

No Ship Subsidy.

Our merchant marine to be restored to its former greatness and made the ally of the people against monopoly by the repeal of antiquated and restricted navigation laws. But no subsidies for favored shipowners.

Imperialism.

The powers granted the federal government were not meant to be used to conquer or hold in subjection the people of other countries. Their use for such purposes not only belies our declaration of the rights of men, but also unbalances our system by increasing the centralization of power at Washington, to the ultimate overthrow of local government.

The Democratic party has never favored nor opposes any extension of the national boundaries nor meant to carry speedily to all inhabitants full equal rights with ourselves. If these are unified by location, race or character to be formed into self-governing territories and then incorporated into the Union of States in accordance with the historic policy of the republic, they should be permitted to work out their own destiny.

Only territorial expansion demanded by the national welfare and the national safety to be at any time favored—the objection which should have prevented certain of our recent actions being that they imposed the national safety without regard to the national welfare, that they devolved upon us enormous responsibilities, which we have no call to assume; that they are certain to be an increase of our national debt; that they have exposed the nation to the charge of imperialism; that they have weakened our claim to supremacy on the American continent, at the same time that they lessen our ability to make the claim good; and that they furnish a dangerous opportunity and temptation for the disregard of the self-evident truth of universal application that governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed.

Sympathy For Boers.

The obvious sympathy of the national administration with the British government in its efforts to destroy the South African republics and the policy which has made the ports of the United States a basis of supply for the British army, without which the war could not be successfully carried on, are condemned by the Democracy of Ohio.

The Monroe Doctrine.

The maintenance of the Monroe Doctrine as heretofore interpreted and asserted by the national government.

An Adequate Navy.

A navy commensurate with the international importance of the United States and its primary in the western hemisphere, and adequate to the protection of the lives and property of American citizens the world over.

The faithful observance and wider application of civil service principles, especially in the selection of judges and executive representatives.

Direct Vote on Senators.

A constitutional amendment requiring the election of United States senators by the direct vote of the people. Hereafter, until this is passed, whenever a senator is to be elected, it shall be the duty of the state committee to give notice in its call that the nomination of a senator will be made at the state convention.

The Toilers.

No question of the right of labor to combine for the assertion of its rights and the protection of its interests. The burdens of the unjust and discriminating laws for which the Republican party is responsible fall chiefly on those who till the soil or labor at other forms of production. Although these constitute a large majority of our citizens, they have never seen lobbyists to the halls of federal or state legislatures, nor founded monopolies nor demanded special privileges. They have patiently endured the operation of these laws which keep them from and give to others their just share of the national wealth. The Democratic party pledges its efforts to relieve them of the burdens which class legislation has laid on them.

Republican Party Arraigned.

That the Republican party has always upheld class interests and is justly chargeable with hostility in both belief and practice to the above principles is common knowledge. It can not be trusted to deal with evils of its own creation. The arrogant assumption by that party of all credit for everything and the threats of those who speak for it and its favored interests, already too powerful, to create artificial conditions of stringency and distress, unless the policies they advocate are supported at the polls, deserve the condemnation of a people who are just and propose to remain free.

Corruption Denounced.

One great danger which now threatens our free institutions is the widespread corruption which menaces the destruction of public virtue. Vast sums of money are corruptly employed in popular elections; official defalcations are so frequent as scarcely to excite attention; and political bosses rule and rob the people, all of which is a direct result of Republican policies and legislation.

We demand that all official misconduct and corruption be vigorously punished, that public virtue be upheld, and the want of it denounced.

The Party's Pledge.

Inspired by the example of the long line of its statesmen, who have applied these principles from the days of Thomas Jefferson to the present time, the Democratic party pledges itself anew to their support, and earnestly appeals to all patriotic men, without regard to party names or past differences, to unite with it on terms of perfect equality in the struggle to rescue our government from the grasp of selfishness and corruption and restore it to its former fairness, purity and simplicity.

KILBOURNE'S ACCEPTANCE.

In accepting the nomination for governor Colonel Kilbourne said:

The nomination to the highest office in the state, which you have just given me, is accepted with full appreciation of the responsibility it brings, and with profound gratitude for the confidence in me which your action discloses. I shall not attempt to express in studied sentences what my feeling are, but I thank you from the bottom of my heart.

I am a Democrat, in the broad sense, both by nature and conviction. I learned very early in life that the man who permitted his interest and his sympathies to be limited by the boundaries of any single social class led but a narrow existence, and that only those whose hearts embrace all kinds and conditions of men can know the life worth living.

I am a Democrat politically because I believe the principles of our party best conserve the interests of our working men and women, and therefore the best interests of our country; and because I believe that upon the maintenance of those principles depends the continued welfare of the republic and the permanency of our free institutions.

I am a Democrat because I believe these truths to be self-evident—"that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights; that amongst these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness; that to maintain these rights governments are instituted amongst men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed."

That immortal declaration has for more than a hundred years been the pride of our people and the hope of the oppressed in every land, and the truths it expresses have never been denied by any political organization in this country until now. But the Republican party, the party that at its birth stood for freedom; the party of Lincoln and Chase and Sumner, great then in honorable purpose, is today under a different leadership—and, oh, my friends, how different the leadership!—advocating and carrying out a policy which, as Mr. Bryan has said, "is an abandonment of our theory of government and a substitution of a doctrine against which our whole national life has been a protest."

I am a Democrat because I am opposed to a protective, trust-breeding tariff, and to any and all devices by which the substance of the people is wrongfully taken from them and given to privileged individuals or classes.

I am a Democrat for many other reasons, but above all because I believe that under our form of government we can at all times and under all circumstances safely trust the judgment of the people; and that—in the sense in which it was intended—it is true, as to Americans at least, that the voice of the people is the voice of God.

I shall not at this time attempt any discussion of the platform, but shall later on have an opportunity of speaking at length on the various issues it presents.

There is one clause, however, concerning which I desire to take this, the first opportunity to speak. It is that which refers to judicial appointments. The growing improper use of money in political campaigns is, to my mind, the most serious evil which threatens our free institutions. The policies of the Republican party and its leaders who "know their business" are largely responsible for it. A fund is raised each general election so vast that it can not be used legitimately, and the corruption of voters is undertaken with the knowledge and approval of those whose high official position and additional disservice to the transaction. This practice, as against the state of democratic institutions, and if not checked, will result in the complete transfer of power from the hands of the people to those of hoodlums and bosses. As has been well said: "To bribe a voter is a crime against human liberty. It is the essence of treason, the meanest felony in the catalogue of political crimes."

As a party, we declare against political corruption; let us practice what we preach. Let us conduct the coming campaign on honest and honorable lines alone. Let us take the whole people into our confidence and make our fight in the open.

New Central Committee.

The new state central committee, after making an effort to organize, adjourned to meet in the Great Southern hotel July 20 at 2 p. m. for organization. Chairman Brucker was continued temporarily in that position by on the hurt spot. It will cool and soothe the wound right away and stop the pain, too. In a few days it will be all right again. There won't be any scar, either.

CLYDESDALE OINTMENT is nature's cure for burns of all kinds. It was discovered many years ago by Hugh Clydesdale, a Gypsy, who later became a famous surgeon. It is not a cure-all, but it does cure all wounds, pains and cuts. Cheaper and safer than to let it cure itself. Price 25 cts. per jar, at all dealers.

Mr. Yantis is not only an able and earnest speaker, but a fine singer, and his listeners were charmed with his rendition of several grand hymns. Devoid of all superficial gush the discourse was tremulous with Christian sentiment pervaded by deep religious feeling—every word well chosen and every sentence clear as crystal. From the first sentence to the last not one word escaped us. It was our intention to give two or three passages from this eloquent sermon, but one who had never seen an eagle would form a very sorry, a very inadequate conception of the royal bird, by portraying its wings—its talons or its beak, or eyes—suffice it to say that this was one of the best sermons ever delivered in this valley.

The Rev. John Sheppard of Clay Lick will fill his appointment here on Sunday evening, July 21. Mr. Sheppard gives us a sermon every three weeks.

HUNDREDS IN LINE FOR INDIAN LAND.

Big Registration—Scenes Among the Homeseekers—Will be Fully 50,000 Applicants.

El Reno, O. T., July 11.—When darkness came Wednesday night hundreds were still in line at the registration booths for the 13,000 farms of the Kiowa-Comanche lands. There will be fully 50,000 applicants when the drawing by lot begins July 29.

The lottery scheme robbed the "opening" of the picturesque fun and the exciting times incident to the great opening of the Cherokee strip ten years ago. Compared with that event, this affair was tame. Considering that there are perhaps 20,000 people in town, comparatively little disorder prevailed.

Hundreds of people sleep in the streets to maintain their places in lines forming at the six registration booths in El Reno. The crowd before each booth elected a captain and each man and woman in line was given a number which was pinned on clothing. Interlopers tried to push in and break the numerical order of the line organization. This instantly raised bad blood and when word was passed down the line a little later that the booth officials would not recognize the line organization, but would register the first persons to present themselves, there were threats of violence and rioting seemed likely. Trouble was prevented by the early announcement that the line organization would be respected by the government officials, cheers and waving of hats greeted this word and from this time forth no sign of trouble was apparent.

The total registration of homesteaders at El Reno was 4,018, of whom 153 were women. Assistant Commissioner Richards established a separate registration booth for women. Mr. Richards says he can register 8,000 daily from now on, or as soon as organization of his force is perfected.

Explosion and Fire.

El Paso, Tex., July 11.—An explosion occurred in the engine room of the Kansas City Consolidated Smelter company which set fire to the building, causing a loss of $150,000. The 13 men employed at the works were injured, one fatally. The fire burned four hours and was finally extinguished. The works are located quite a distance from the city. A hot blast was stopped by the breaking of the belt which connected it with the machinery. This caused the gas from the furnace to rush back into the large pipes, which exploded.

Invested Endowment Funds.

Chicago, July 11.—John A. Hines, former president of the board of control of the endowment rank of the Knights of Pythias, appeared before the supreme lodge and admitted the report previously submitted. This report showed that of $500,000 invested under Hines's direction nearly two-thirds went into enterprises which rendered them unavailable to pay death claims. Other funds went into channels for which there is no accounting.

Boer Refugee Allowed to Land.

New York, July 11.—The Boer refugee, David Stephen Du Plooy, who was held by the immigration officials, as a stowaway immigrant, was released by the board of special inquiry, after examination into the case. Du Plooy came here on the Trinidad after escaping from Darrells Island, British West Indies.

Watkins Wants a Change.

Muncie, Ind., July 11.—The sporting editor of a Muncie newspaper received from Manager Watkins of the Indianapolis baseball team, assurance that he was ready to negotiate the transfer of the Indianapolis team, consisting of 10 players, to Muncie for the rest of the season.

REPORT

That an Offer as Been Made by Newark to a Lima Factory is a Mistake.

A special to the Zanesville Times Recorder from Lima, O., says: The board of trade here is taking active measures to prevent the removal of the Lima Locomotive and Machine works to Newark, where they have been offered a location and a bonus of $110,000. The firm employs about 500 men and ships lumber and mining locomotives all over the world. Their quarters here are too small and unless Lima can provide them with new ones they will move.

The Newark Board of Trade has made no such offer to the Lima Locomotive and Machine Works and in fact, has made no offer at all. There has been some correspondence on a proposition to remove the shops from Lima, but the matter has not taken definite form and no offer has been made by Newark.

White Man Turned Yellow.

Great consternation was felt by the friends of M. A. Fogarty of Lexington, Ky., when they saw he was turning yellow. His skin slowly changed color also his eyes, and he suffered terribly. His malady was Yellow Joundice. He was treated by the best doctors, but without benefit. Then he was advised to try Electric Bitters, the wonderful Stomach and Liver Remedy, and he writes: "After taking two bottles I was wholly cured." An Ordinance.

Granting certain rights in the streets, bridges and alleys of the City of Newark, O., for the purpose of laying mains thereunder for natural gas.

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Newark, Ohio, as follows:

Section 1. That subject to the conditions and provisions of this ordinance, set out and provided, there be granted to N. M. Kinkade, A. W. Evans and S. M. Winn, their successors and assigns, the right to the use, subject to the restrictions herein contained, of the streets, alleys, bridges and public grounds within the limits of said city of Newark, Ohio, for the purpose of laying therein and thereunder pipes and mains to hold, carry and convey natural gas for the uses of the public and citizens of said city, for heat, fuel and light, for the period of twenty-five years from the passage of this ordinance: Provided, however, that such right is so granted upon the express condition that said N. M. Kinkade, A. W. Evans and S. M. Winn, their successors and assigns, shall not enter upon, or in any manner use the streets, alleys, bridges or public grounds within said city, until the City Council thereof shall be satisfied upon their application, that they have brought to the confines of said city sufficient gas to reasonably supply the needs of said city and its citizens.

Section 2. All digging and excavating in said streets and alleys done under the provisions of this ordinance shall be done under the direction and superintendence of a director or superintendent, to be appointed by the City Council of said city. Subject, however, to the further supervision of the said City Council, or of a committee by it appointed for that purpose. Such superintendent shall be paid by the City of Newark, A. W. Evans and S. M. Winn, their successors or assigns, for his services therein, such compensation as the City Council shall provide, not to exceed however, $250 per day.

The trenches, pipes and mains shall be so constructed as not to interfere with any pipes or sewers already laid or constructed in any such street, alley or public place of said city by the City Council of said city, or gas or light company of said city. Pipes, lines and mains shall be buried in the earth to a depth of at least thirty inches.

The pressure in said pipes and mains for domestic purposes shall not exceed four ounces; but said N. M. Kinkade, A. W. Evans and S. M. Winn, their successors or assigns, shall have the right to lay what is known as a high pressure line, without limitation as to pressure, for furnishing gas to manufacturing and in distributing said gas in said pipes and mains said N. M. Kinkade, A. W. Evans and S. M. Winn, their successors or assigns, shall bring the gas one foot within the lot line of the consumer.

All streets, alleys or public places so used by said N. M. Kinkade, A. W. Evans and S. M. Winn, their successors or assigns, to be put in as good condition after any excavation made, or pipes laid by them, their successors or assigns, as they were in before any such excavating or laying of pipes therein by said parties, and with as little delay as practicable, according to the judgment of said superintendent, or of said City Council, or its committee.

Said Kinkade, Evans and Winn, their successors and assigns, shall immediately upon turning gas into said mains or pipes, place in a public building in said city, a gauge which will show the pressure in the pipes, or mains, for domestic use.

Section 3. The said natural gas shall be by said N. M. Kinkade, A. W. Evans and S. M. Winn, their successors or assigns, brought to the said city and distributed by mains and pipes therein for sale to consumer for heat, fuel and light; and said parties, their successors or assigns, shall not charge therefor to consumers a price in excess of fifteen cents per thousand cubic feet by meter measurement. No rental shall be charged for said meter, which shall be furnished by said N. M. Kinkade, A. W. Evans and S. M. Winn, their successors or assigns, and shall remain their property.

But the consumer may have the option of using and consuming said gas at a flat rate, for which said N. M. Kinkade, A. W. Evans and S. M. Winn, their successors or assigns, shall not charge a price in excess of the schedule following, to-wit:

For illuminating gas said N. M. Kinkade, A. W. Evans and S. M. Winn, their successors or assigns may charge the following schedule of prices but no more.

By meter measurement fifteen cents per thousand cubic feet.

Business houses which close at 8 p. m. per month 12 cents per light.

Business houses, which close at 6 p. m. per month, 15 cents per light.

Provided, however, that the consumer may be required to use both fuel and illuminating gas in the same manner, either by meter or flat rate.

The foregoing schedule of prices to be and remain in force and effect for a period of ten years from and after the passage of this ordinance.

The consumer shall have the option to use any size mixer he may desire; and the foregoing schedule of prices shall prevail regardless of the location of the fires, or the size of the room wherein situated may be put. It is hereby provided that the consumer shall not be required to pay for said gas for fuel or heat for more than seven months in each year, but the gas is to remain at his command during the entire year.

All contracts for the consumption of gas as aforesaid shall be for one year, said year to commence on the 1st day of October, but the consumer may, at his option, have the gas turned off, or on, under his contract at any time during the continuance of the same, upon giving notice to said N. M. Kinkade, A. W. Evans and S. M. Winn, their successors or assigns, and paying a fee of twenty cents, and thereupon said parties are hereby empowered to charge. In the event that the consumer exercises his option of using said gas for a year, he shall be charged for the time said gas is consumed at a flat rate, as computed from the foregoing schedule. No payment to be made for less than 30 days, and the parties hereto shall have the right to remove the meter or to change the size of the meter at any time, returned when called for by the said Kinkade, Evans and Winn, their successors or assigns. Said Kinkade, Evans and Winn, their successors or assigns, shall have the right at any time to make inspection of premises when said gas is used.

In addition to the foregoing, and as a further consideration for the grant herein made, said N. M. Kinkade, A. W. Evans and S. M. Winn, their successors or assigns, shall furnish to said city of Newark, without charge therefor, not to exceed seventy-five feet, to be located at such places, and for such use, as may be necessary to supply heat for the boilers of said electric light power station, and do so at their own cost and expense. Said gas for said seventy-five feet, and for heat at said electric light power station shall be so furnished by said N. M. Kinkade, A. W. Evans and S. M. Winn, their successors or assigns, during the continuance of the rights herein granted, to-wit, for twenty-five years.

If said parties, their successors or assigns, shall fail to bring to the corporate limits of said city within twelve months after the passage and legal publication of this ordinance, gas in sufficient quantities to supply the public and citizens of said city, and shall fail to make proof thereof to the satisfaction of said City Council, as herein provided at that time then the rights and privileges herein granted to said parties their successors or assigns, shall cease and determine; and this grant shall thereupon become null and void without notice to said Kinkade, Evans and Winn, their successors or assigns.

Section 4. As a part consideration for the grant of the rights and privileges to them herein provided for, said N. M. Kinkade, A. W. Evans and S. M. Winn, their successors or assigns, shall prosecute with due diligence the drilling in the earth of wells in addition to the one they now have, for the purpose of securing natural gas with which, in part, to supply the consumers of said city. Such parties shall prosecute the drilling and boring of wells with due diligence for the purpose aforesaid, and shall continue the same with due diligence; and shall do such other things as may be necessary for the purpose of so supplying consumers with natural gas in said city; and for the purpose aforesaid said N. M. Kinkade, A. W. Evans and S. M. Winn, their successors or assigns, shall, before the time fixed herein as the limit within which said gas shall be brought to the limits of said city, make a sufficient number of gas wells of the customary size, depth and distance of said city for the purpose of supplying natural gas in the manner aforesaid.

Section 5. Said N. M. Kinkade, A. W. Evans and S. M. Winn, their successors or assigns, shall preserve and keep said city safe and harmless from any damages, costs or expenses, and safe and free from any claims for damages, costs or expenses, incurred by persons or property, by reason of, or on account of anything done by said parties, their successors or assigns, under the provision of this, or other ordinances of said city, and said parties, their successors or assigns, shall defend and pay the cost of any and all suits brought against said city, by any person or corporation, claiming damages on account of, or arising out of the construction by said parties, their successors or assigns, of their said natural gas plant, mains or pipes, or on account of, or arising out of the use aforesaid by them of the streets, alleys, or public grounds of said city; or the maintenance of said gas system therein.

Before laying pipes in any of the streets, alleys or public places of said city, or making any use thereof, the said parties, their successors or assigns, shall, with sufficient surety execute and deliver to said city their certain and valid bond in the sum of $20,000, conditioned to save said city safe and harmless in all respects as herein provided, and free from all damage, cost or expense, incurred by persons or property as aforesaid, and free of cost in the maintenance or defense of suits as aforesaid. Said bond shall be executed by sufficient sureties, to the satisfaction and approval of the City Council of said city, but said bond may be signed by a bond company.

At or before the expiration of 90 days after the passage of this ordinance and legal publication thereof, said parties, their successors or assigns, shall with sufficient surety execute and deliver to said city their certain and valid bond in the sum of $10,000, (ten thousand dollars) conditioned that the said Kinkade, Evans and Winn, their successors or assigns, shall, before the expiration of said period of one year, after the passage and legal publication of this ordinance, bring in pipes to the city limits of said city sufficient gas for the purpose aforesaid, and upon the failure so to perform said obligation which the said parties, their successors or assigns hereby agree to, to so bring said gas to the limits of said city for the purpose aforesaid within the time aforesaid, and upon which the grant of the right and privileges herein contained is conditioned and made to depend, then the said sum of ten thousand dollars shall be regarded as liquidated damages and the same shall be forfeited to said city, which may thereupon maintain its action against said parties, hereto, their successors or assigns, and their sureties on said bond for the full amount thereof, which the said parties hereto, their successors or assigns and their sureties shall pay. And the sureties upon said bond shall be such as may be approved by the City Council of said city, and may be given by a bond company; the said bond shall be executed and delivered by said parties hereto, their successors or assigns, shall lay any pipes in, or make use of any of said streets, alleys or public places. A failure to so comply with said provisions shall constitute a forfeiture of all rights and privileges herein granted to the said parties hereto, their successors or assigns, which rights and privileges shall thereupon cease and determine the election of the City Council of said city.

Section 6. The rights and privileges herein granted shall be subject to all the conditions, provisions and regulations which the said parties hereto, their successors or assigns, agree to observe as a condition of this grant, contained in any ordinance that may now be in existence, having heretofore been passed by said city regulating the manner of laying, maintaining, repairing, and using of the streets, roads, lanes and alleys of the City of Newark, to be used in carrying, transporting and supplying natural gas, prescribing the manner of testing the same, the pressure therein and providing for gas escaping therefrom.

Section 7. Said N. M. Kinkade, A. W. Evans and S. M. Winn, their successors and assigns, shall, upon the petition of one-half of the residents of any street in said city of Newark, Ohio, to them directed in writing, proceed, without unnecessary delay, to lay such pipes, lines and mains as is necessary to supply the residents of said street with gas for heat, fuel and light.

Section 8. After said pipes, lines and mains are laid as provided for in this ordinance, if said Kinkade, Evans and Winn, their successors and assigns, should fail to furnish gas to the consumers who desire to use the same, either for heat, light or fuel, for a period of ninety days, then said parties, their successors or assigns, shall thereupon forfeit all rights acquired under this ordinance, all rights, privileges or grants herein conveyed to said Kinkade, Evans and Winn, their successors and assigns, shall thereupon cease, terminate and be utterly void; and said pipes, lines, mains, meters and other appurtenances of said gas system, within the corporate limits of said city, shall thereupon be forfeited to, and shall thereupon become the property of the City of Newark, Ohio. Provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be construed as to prevent said parties their successors and assigns, from turning the gas off from the premises of any consumer who is in default for payment therefor.

Section 9. If at any time during the continuance of the rights herein granted said Kinkade, Evans and Winn, their successors and assigns, shall refuse or neglect to furnish to any person in said city gas for light, or heat, or both, as provided or authorized by the ordinance herein stipulated that they shall not do, or neglect to do any of the things herein stipulated that they shall do, in any way violate any provision of this ordinance, all rights, privileges or grants herein conveyed to said Kinkade, Evans and Winn, their successors and assigns, shall thereupon cease, terminate and be utterly void; and said pipes, lines, mains, meters and other appurtenances of said gas system, within the corporate limits of said city shall be forfeited to and thereupon become the property of said city of Newark, Ohio, without notice to said parties given.

Section 10. The city of Newark, Ohio, shall have the right, at any time during the continuance of this grant, and after the expiration of ten years from the passage of this ordinance, to purchase the said gas mains, pipes, lines and meters and the wells and leases then owned by said N. M. Kinkade, A. W. Evans and S. M. Winn, their successors or assigns, and all appurtenances thereon, at an approximate value to be determined by three engineers, one to be selected by the City Council of said city, one by said N. M. Kinkade, A. W. Evans and S. M. Winn, their successors or assigns, and the third provided that in said computation of value said grantee shall be entitled to no payment on account of good will; not because of any valuation derived from franchises, nor payment of any kind, based on the earning power of the plant and property.

Section 11. It is expressly stipulated and understood that said N. M. Kinkade, A. W. Evans and S. M. Winn, their successors or assigns, shall not, and by these present articles do not, in any way, transfer, or dispose of or dispose of their rights and privileges, or any part thereof, acquired hereunder to the Logan Natural Gas Company, The Newark Natural Gas and Fuel Company, or to any other person, partnership or company, engaged, or who hereafter may engage, in the business of furnishing gas, either natural or artificial, for heat, fuel or light to the citizens of said city; nor shall they sell, or dispose of, or dispose of their rights and privileges, or any part thereof, acquired hereunder to the Logan Natural Gas Company, The Newark Natural Gas and Fuel Company, or any other person, partnership or company so doing business in said city, business: nor shall the said Kinkade, Evans and Winn, their successors and assigns, sell, assign, transfer or dispose of the franchises or rights acquired under this ordinance to any other person, partnership or company, without the previous consent of this Council, by resolution duly passed; and any such sale, assignment, transfer or disposition thereof without such consent shall be utterly null and void. This ordinance shall not be subject to repeal and be in force from and after its passage and legal publication, and the acceptance in writing by said parties hereto of the conditions thereof within ten days after its passage.

BATTERY D

LIGHT ARTILLERY ARRIVED FROM TOLEDO THIS MORNING.

Soldiers are Camping on the State Grounds, West of the City—ideal Camping Place.

Battery D of Toledo, went into camp this morning at the Permanent Encampment Grounds, and will be there for the next several days. The Battery arrived at Granville over the T. & O. C. early this morning, and marched overland to Newark, arriving on the grounds at 10:30 o'clock.

The camp has been pitched on the parade ground, instead of in the circle as heretofore, as Captain Norton, who has been here a number of times before thinks the circle is a little too damp. The advance guard arrived in Newark Tuesday and prepared everything for the battery.

The officers are: H. B. Norton, captain; A. J. Girardot, captain and assistant surgeon; S. H. Howland, first lieutenant, H. E. Kerns, second lieutenant.

The camp has been named "Camp McBain," in honor of Lieutenant McBain, formerly of Battery D, now stationed in the Philippines, as chief civilian contract veterinary surgeon of the United States army at Manila.

A slight rain was occasioned at Granville owing to the fact that enough horses had not been supplied, and that the battery is now short of horses. Notwithstanding this fact a very creditable march was made from Granville to Newark.

Owing to the fatigue of the men, there will be no drills today, at least until evening. After today, however, the following routine will be observed at Camp McBain in Newark:

Reveille, 5:30 a. m.
Mess, 6:00 a. m.
Fatigue, stable and water, 7 a. m.
Guard mount, 8:00 a. m.
Drill Boots and Saddles, 8:30 a. m.
Recall, 10:30 a. m.
Stable, 11 a. m.
Mess, 11:30 a. m.
School, 1:00 p. m.
Drill, boots and saddles, 2:30 p. m.
Recall, 4:00 p. m.
Stable and Water, 4:30 p. m.
Mess, 5:30 p. m.
Retreat, 6:00 o'clock, (sunset.)
Tattoo, 9:30 p. m.
Quarters 10:15 p. m.
Taps, 10:30 p. m.

Battery Notes.

With the battery now are Mr. Brown, city electrician of the Toledo Traction companies, and some others. Messrs. Chris Huffman, Joseph Huber, and Captain Howland, father of Lieutenant Howland, are expected Friday to spend the remainder of camp.

Col. O. J. Hopkins chief inspector general of artillery, of the Adjutant General's office, well known in Newark, will be here Saturday.

Captain Norton is greatly pleased with the grounds, and in his report to the Adjutant General has, and will recommend the compulsory use of the state grounds, as "no such good facilities for drill and target practice are to be found in the State of Ohio."

The health of the camp is excellent, only a few being slightly indisposed.

SUNDAY BURIALS

The Writer of the Following 'Communication Proposes "Funeral Reform" in Newark.

(Communicated.)

I have noticed in recent issues of the city papers, that an effort is being made upon the part of the clerks and labor unions to have the groceries and other places of business close on Sunday.

The argument used is that the clerks may have a day of rest and quiet in their families. This to my mind is very commendable, and should have the hearty support of not only all labor organizations, but all citizens as well. Not only grocery clerks should have this day in their homes with their families, and at the church services, but the effort to secure this should include hackmen, stablemen, undertakers, and grave-diggers. I am quite sure such a movement would meet with the approval of all the parties mentioned.

This, as you will see, would do away with Sunday funerals, and Sunday burials. And why not? The burial of our dead is and should be strictly a family matter, and the privacy of the family should not be intruded upon by the public on such occasions.

It would certainly be quite difficult if not impossible, to have a private funeral and burial on Sunday. I believe if the ministers, undertakers, hackmen and grave-diggers were consulted upon this subject, they would all give it their hearty approval.

Those who are agitating the closing of the groceries on Sunday should, for the same reasons, urge that the Sunday funeral and burial be done away with, except perhaps or only in cases of dangerous or contagious diseases.

A. B. C.

The suggestion made in the foregoing communication is a good one, and as the writer says, it will surely meet with the approval of the ministers, undertakers, hackmen, gravediggers and others directly concerned. The suppression of the Sunday funeral is gradually becoming more general. The clergy of all classes and denominations are a unit in opposing Sunday funerals, and now many of the leading cemeteries prohibit Sunday funerals except on absolutely necessary occasions. The burial of our dead should be attended by a simple and a dignified service, without ostentation. Privacy at a Sunday funeral is well nigh impossible. Newark ministers and many other citizens have already done much to discourage Sunday burials, but the custom still prevails in this city to a great extent. It is one of the needed reforms however, that is coming gradually.

Ferry for B. & O. Boys.

The closing of the Y bridge in Zanesville to all traffic worked a severe hardship upon B. & O. employees living in the Seventh ward, obliging them to make the trips to and from work by most circuitous routes. The officials of the shop set about to overcome the difficulty and a ferry across the Licking was decided upon. A skiff belonging to the company was thoroughly renovated and repainted and this morning was ready for service in hauling all Seventh ward employees to and from work. Carl Griggs has been placed in charge of the skiff, which has been christened "The Lady of the Lake."

Improvements are going on all around us both in the city and outside. Newark is booming and every body has faith in its future. One of the "down town" improvements is on Hoover Street where Gil O. Daugherty has a number of lots centrally located which he is selling at suburban prices. He is laying water mains and building an eight inch sewer for the benefit of his lots, several of these lots have been sold and three fine residences with all modern conveniences are in course of erection. Other residences soon to begin. These lots are "down town" and are on the line of sewer, city water, natural gas and electric light service. They are cheap at $200 and can be bought for $100.

ONE DAY'S RECORD CRIME AND TRAGEDIES.

Brill Pleaded Guilty—The Cotherall Murder—Wanted Another's Wife. He Met His Match.

Laporte, Ind., July 11.—The celebrated Brill case came to a sudden end here when John W. Brill pleaded guilty to assault and battery and was fined $500 and costs because he shot E. E. Weir, an attorney, here last January, believing the latter was unduly intimate with Mrs. Brill. The charge of attempted murder was made against Brill but after various attempts a compromise was arranged by which Brill was to plead guilty to the lesser charge. Brill is a Cleveland man who amassed a fortune in Mexican mines. A divorce case may be the outgrowth. Nearly 200 witnesses had been summoned, some from Mexico, for the trial.

The Cotherall Murder.
Fort Wayne, Ind., July 11.—Investigations by the police tend to show that little Alice Cotherall of Huntertown, for whose murder Charles Dunn, the richest and one of the oldest men in the village, is held here, was killed in Dunn's barn and hidden in a pile of sawdust until she was thrown into a cistern under his house. Her funeral was postponed to permit the authorities to make another investigation. Dunn's hired man, Burt Reed, and his domestic, Marie Sampleton of Chicago, are held as witnesses, not accomplices.

Wanted Another Man's Wife.
New Albany, Ind., July 11.—John Casteau, 28, was shot and killed by Joseph Turner, 25, at the latter's home three miles west of this city. Casteau went to Turner's house and attempted to take Mrs. Turner away. Turner interfered and Casteau assaulted him. Turner then ran into the house and returned with a shotgun and fired one shot, the lead taking effect in Casteau's left side.

Finally Met His Match.
Owensboro, Ky., July 11.—David Smith, one of the most noted characters in western Kentucky, was shot and killed by Charles Dunn. The men had a feud of long standing and they met for the first time in years in the road and both fired at once, but only Dunn's ball took effect. Smith had killed a man and was covered with the scars of many battles.

MISTREATED.
Neuralgia is a Very Much Mistreated Complaint—It's an All Nerve Trouble Curable by the Great Nerve Medicine, Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. It's Newark Evidence That Proves.

The remarkable number of neuralgia cures in Newark by Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills has removed all question of doubt as to the efficacy of this medicine in curing neuralgia. Trend of the testimony is to effectual cure—that is the difference from other preparations that only render temporary relief.

Mrs. E. D. Everets of No. 51 West Harrison street, Newark, Ohio, says: "Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills acted wonderfully well with me. Owing to neuralgia I was all broken down, very nervous and having had attacks of nervous sick headaches, any excitement bringing them on. It was suggested I get the Nerve Pills at Dr. A. W. Chase's City Drug Store and try them. I am more than glad I did, as I feel strong again, nerves steady and plenty of energy. Those sickening, prostrating headaches are a thing of the past and I am necessarily very much pleased with the Nerve Pills and their work."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50c a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

GEORGE HANDEL'S SUICIDE.

Father of the Man Who Was Killed in a Runaway a Week Ago Ended His Life by Hanging Wednesday Night--Details of the Sad Death.

The entire city was shocked Wednesday evening about six o'clock by the news that George Handel, the well known meat merchant, had committed suicide. The report seemed incredible but it was soon learned that it was too true.

Just a week before, Mr. Handel's son John was killed in a runaway accident and since that time Mr. Handel has not been in his right mind. He would constantly brood over the death of his son, and all efforts of members of the family were unavailing to console him.

Although not a drinking man, in the general sense of the term, the unfortunate father tried to forget his great sorrow in the use of stimulants, and this fact made matters worse. He was of better.

During Tuesday he was particularly downcast, and on a number of occasions would cry out, "Oh, John, my poor boy, how can I get along without you?" He was inconsolable, and the family realizing his state of mind, kept a close watch on him during the day, although no one expected him to commit suicide.

Tuesday night he went to bed at his usual hour, and sometime during the night he got up and went out to the barn, as the horses were making some disturbance. His wife says he came back and told her that the horses were all right, and went to bed and to sleep.

In the morning he was missed, and some alarm was felt, although he sometimes got up very early and went to the country and would be gone all day. On these occasions, however, he generally told the family of his intentions. The members of the family, Mr. Ferd Mohlenpau, and others instituted a search for the missing man which was kept up all day, proving fruitless.

About six o'clock Wednesday evening, Mr. Fred Martindale, an employee went to the stable to feed the horses. It was his custom to throw enough hay from the mow each evening to last during the following day, so that no one had been in the hay mow that day.

Mr. Martindale went up the ladder to the mow, and was horrified to discover Mr. Handel hanging to a rafter, cold in death.

Mr. King Injured.

"Say, Who Built It?"
Jos. Atkinson has a sycamore tree standing along the creek back of his house, which measures at its base something near seven feet in diameter. One of the Columbus "fresh air" children seeing the monster sentinel Sunday, exclaimed wonderingly, "Gee whiz, ain't that a junker! Say, who built it?"—Pataskala Standard.

Coming to Newark.
X. F. McIntosh of Summit, has accepted a position as base carpenter for the B. & O. company in Newark, and expects to move his family there soon. Seventeen of his near relatives gathered at his home Sunday intending to surprise him, but as Mr. McIntosh did not come home until evening after his

He had used a hitch strap, tying one end around the rafter, while the other was formed into a noose, with the snap and placed about the neck. The rafter is only about six or seven feet from the floor and after doing this the determined man sank down on his knees, the fatal noose tightened and in a short time, George Handel was dead.

An alarm was given and Dr. J. P. H. Stedem and Coroner Evans were on the scene in a short time. The doctor's services were not needed, however, and Coroner Evans cut the body down, and it was removed in Bournier's ambulance, to his undertaking establishment and prepared for burial.

The body showed no marks except a crease about the neck where the strap had been, and there had been some friction showing that probably just before dissolution there had been a struggle. The face presented no ghastly or discolored appearance.

Dr. Stedem gave it as his opinion that death had probably occurred 12 hours before he was found.

As was said, Mr. Handel has not been in his right mind since the fatal accident to his son. Although generally a hearty eater he would scarcely taste food during the week, and kept constantly talking about his son.

George Handel was born in Wurttemberg, Germany, October 22, 1833. When a lad of 10 years he came to this country and settled with his parents in Newark, where he has since resided. In 1861 he was married to Miss Anna Gleckler, who was also born in Wurttemberg, and four children were the result of this union.

They were John, who was killed a week ago, Henry, George and Mrs. Clara Hall who reside in Newark.

For the past 40 years the deceased has been in the meat business and was known by almost every one in Newark. He was a man who was honorable in his dealings and was respected by all who knew him.

He was a member of the German Lutheran church. The funeral will take place from the home, 94 South Fifth street, at two o'clock Friday afternoon, Rev. T. M. Higginbotham conducting the services. The interment will be made in Cedar Hill cemetery.

friends had taken their departure it is difficult to say which were the most surprised.—Pataskala Standard.

Voted to Hold Out.

Newport News, Va., July 11.—President O'Connell of the International Association of Machinists having pledged by telegraph all the financial support possible, the Newport News strikers voted against returning to work. There were some votes in favor of going back to work but it is said the majority of those who intend to return to work did not attend the meeting. Superintendent Post says he has made all arrangements for filling the places of those that do not return and that over 200 men will be here by Monday.

Builders' Strike.

Fort Worth, Tex., July 11.—The 1,000 men in building trades struck here and work is practically suspended all over the city. The strike is the outcome of the refusal of the laborers' federation to accept the result of arbitration of demand for higher wages.

MORE HOT WEATHER.

Old Sol Again Firing Up His Scorching Retort.

ALL RECORDS BROKEN IN THE WEST.

Got So Torrid In Chicago That It Was Cooler to Shut the Doors Than to Admit the Southwest Simoon. Kansas and Other Western States Are Being Baked to a Crisp.

Chicago, July 11.—All previous records for heat in this city were broken by a temperature of 102 in the shade at the weather bureau Wednesday at 3 p. m. The maximum heretofore was 99.8, July 6, 1881. The heat was augmented by a wind, something like a Syrian simoon, which blew from the west and southwest and a hotter, more stifling air was never felt in this city. It seemed to add 20 degrees to the heat. So hot did it become during the afternoon as the wind drove the hot air into windows and doorways, that all through the business section of the city tenants of offices slammed their windows down to keep out the air. At the theaters where matinees were in progress men were stationed at the front doors to keep them closed as much as possible. If any comfort was to be found it was by shutting out the breeze.

Down on the street level, in the shade, the mercury was but little above that in the auditorium tower, but in the sun and on the street crossings it was anywhere from 105 to 110. The air was so dry, however, that its effects were not as disastrous as would have been the case had greater humidity prevailed. There were no deaths but there were 21 prostrations. The wind changed at night to the northwest, blowing off Lake Michigan, with the result that the mercury went down 20 degrees within an hour.

St. Louis Sweltered.

St. Louis, July 11.—A temperature of 103 in the shade was registered at 3 p. m. at the weather bureau, which broke all records with one exception for the last 20 years. The exception was Aug. 12, 1881, when the temperature rose to 106 in the shade. There was no loss of life.

Highest in Hawkeye State.

Dubuque, Ia., July 11.—The fierce heat of the last two weeks probably reached its maximum Wednesday. The government thermometer registered 103, the highest ever known in Iowa.

In Kansas.

Kansas City, July 11.—The highest temperature here was 101, at 4:30 p. m. The highest temperature in Missouri was 109, at Harrisonville; in Kansas, 108, at Fort Scott.

At Omaha.

Omaha, July 11.—The mercury reached 102 at 3 p. m. With the exception of the southern portions, the damage to corn so far has not been extensive.

Iowa Sizzling.

Keokuk, Ia., July 11.—Wednesday was the hottest ever recorded by the weather bureau station here, 105 degrees, following 103 of the day before.

Burke's Successor Chosen.

Dallas, Tex., July 11.—Dudley G. Wooten of Dallas was nominated by the Democrats of the Sixth congressional district for the seat in congress made vacant by the death of Judge R. E. Burke. The convention was in session a week and the nomination was made on the 4,046th ballot. Mr. Wooten stumped the middle states for the Democratic ticket in 1892 and 1896. In his speech accepting the nomination he said that he was not in sympathy with the movement to effect a so-called reorganization of the Democratic party, but was squarely on the Chicago and Kansas City platforms.

Cattle Stamped.

English, Ind., July 11.—A herd of more than 75 cattle being driven to Louisville by Frank McKinley and Tolbert Dooley was frightened and stampeded by a passing train near Riceville. The whole drove rushed over a cliff 60 feet high. The animals which were not killed outright by the fall had to be killed on account of broken limbs. When this was resolved upon the unfortunate drivers sent word through the neighborhood to farmers and everybody to assist in the slaughter, and quarters of prime beef were carried in every direction.

Hinson on the Carpet.

Chicago, Ill., July 11.—John A. Hinson, was ordered by the supreme lodge of the Knights of Pythias to appear before that body and show cause why he should not be expelled. This follows as a direct result of the irregularities which the new management of the endowment rank has found in the books under his 12 years administration as president of the board of control.

Insanity Trust Escaped.

Indianapolis, July 11.—The grand jury investigating the Indianapolis insanity trust, which is alleged to have railroaded many into the insane asylum, reported without returning indictments. It finds abuses of the law, but no open violations. Police Surgeon Christian and Justice Lockman, who got large fees, are censured.

Cape Retel Executed.

Cape Town, July 11.—Marais, the well known Cape rebel, was hanged at Middelburg, Transvaal authority. By the order of the military authorities the execution was witnessed by prominent residents of Middelburg.

ALTON WRECK HORROR GROWS

Sixteen are Dead and the Injured Number Thirty--Some of the Victims Terribly Scalded--Train One of the Finest On the Line.

Kansas City, July 11.—The full horror of the train wreck on the Chicago and Alton road near Norton, Mo., when a westbound passenger train collided with a fast live stock train, both going at high speed, was not realized until a train loaded with bruised and scalded people arrived here and transferred the sufferers to the hospitals. First reports of the accident indicated that four trainmen and two passengers were killed. Of the wounded who started for this city four were dead before the train arrived and six passed away at the hospitals before midnight, making 16 deaths. In St. Joseph's and University hospitals are 30 persons, at least two of whom are expected to die. Most of them were scalded by the steam that issued from the locomotives, both of which were wrecked and piled up in a heap of wreckage with two of the passenger cars.

The dead: Daniel M. Anna, Slater, Mo., conductor of freight train; P. J. Anderson, Slater, Mo., engineer of freight train; Frank Briggs, engineer of passenger train; I. S. Roberts, Chicago, United States Express company messenger; Mrs. Gilland and daughter of Goodland, Ind.; D. W. Hooker of Syracuse, N. Y., died on train; Mrs. C. W. Snider, Jasper, N. Y., died on train; G. L. Roy, cashier of Wilmington (Ills.) bank, died on train. Sydney Jones, Kansas City, died in hospital. Daniel Donnelly, Mexico, Mo., fireman of freight train, died at University hospital; Rev. R. J. Curtis, Geneseo, N. Y., died at University hospital; Mrs. Dickson, 67, of Wilmington, Ills., died at University hospital; Miss Lulu Rider, 25, of Kentland, Ind., died at University hospital.

Mrs. C. D. Harry of Hoopeton, Ills., died at St. Joseph's hospital. Her husband, Professor Harry, is also in the hospital. Leslie Coleman of Paw Paw, Mich., can not live, nor can Mrs. J. D. Adsit of Hoopeton, Ills., wife of Dr. Adsit.

Among the many injured are Eli Walker, Mrs. Katherine Walker and Mrs. Mary Mayer of Louisville, O. The passenger train was traveling in three sections on account of the heavy Epworth league business to San Francisco. The wrecked train was the first section and contained no leaguers. Conductor McAnna of the freight train eastbound had been ordered to meet the second section of the passenger at Slater, the next station east of Norton, but apparently overlooked the fact that the first section, which was 55 minutes late, had not passed. The front brakeman on the freight, who was about four cars from the engine, says Conductor McAnna took the throttle himself on leaving Marshall, and was running the engine when the collision occurred. The trains met two miles west of Norton on a curve surmounting a high embankment.

On the arrival at Kansas City of the train bearing the wounded the sufferers were taken to St. Joseph's and University hospitals. On the journey from Slater four of the injured died and their bodies were taken to an undertaking establishment here. The train also brought the bodies of Mrs. Gilland and daughter of Goodland, Ind. The injured suffered mostly from scalds due to escaping steam from the wrecked locomotives, there being no broken limbs. Some of the victims had inhaled steam and were in worse condition than a first examination indicated.

Soon after the arrival here three of the injured died at University hospital and one at St. Joseph's hospital. Identification of the dead was difficult because the clothing had been removed to apply relief to the scalded surfaces. One of the deaths at University hospital was that of Mrs. Dickson, of Wilmington, Ills. Her daughter is in the hospital not seriously injured. Miss Lulu Rider, of Kentland, Ind., was terribly mutilated, her face being crushed and her body scalded. Hilda Haslip of Chenoa, Ills., scalded and burned on back, shoulders, head and face, is the most seriously injured of the patients at University hospital. T. C. Bray of Chicago, a shoe dealer, is at University hospital with neck sprained, head cut and internal injuries, but with a slim chance of recovery. At St. Joseph's hospital, Mrs. Frances Walker of Brooklyn, N. Y., and an elderly woman, unidentified, died later.

The forward Pullman and the tourist sleeper in front were burned. The baggage car was wrecked and freights were piled up on both engines and burned. The wrecked train was one of the finest passenger trains in the United States. The equipment was new.

Hopkinsville, Ky., July 11.—Prominent men were here from all over this section of Kentucky to attend the good roads convention. Among the speakers were Governor J. C. W. Beckham and the Hon. W. H. Moore, president of the National Good Roads association.

A SHOWER OF EGGS

Fell Upon Dowie's Priests In a Chicago Suburb.

ROUGH EXPERIENCE OF ELDER PIPER.

He Was Given a Shower Bath of Dirty Water by the Squirting Brigade—Dowie's Bodyguard Unable to Protect the Proselyters—More Trouble Threatened at Evanston.

Chicago, July 11.—There was another riot with Dowieites in Evanston, provoked by 200 followers of the second Elijah going to that suburb with the determined purpose of converting its people, the results being the same as before.

About half of the Dowie proselyters were followers of Zion, and the remainder were members of the body guard which Dowie maintains. The guards were intended to prevent any interference with the meeting and when it commenced they formed around the Dowie proselyters to hold back the crowd of fully 1,500 people which gathered rapidly, as soon as it was known that another Dowie meeting was in progress.

The Dowieites were pelted with eggs and vegetables, and when several fights resulted between the guards and the people of the town generally the police force of Evanston was called out. The chief of police ordered the Dowieites to withdraw and met with a refusal. He ordered his men to charge them. The police did not use their clubs and the guards held them back by sheer weight and force of numbers.

The crowd meanwhile was growing ugly and mayor Bates, of Evanston, seeing that unless something was done quickly people would be seriously hurt and possibly killed, ordered out a fire engine. The steamer at once turned a four inch stream on the Dowieites and they went over like ten pins. Women as well as men were thrown down by the stream and sent rolling in the mud. The people of Evanston danced and booted with delight as the firm steadily advanced driving the Dowieites before them in utter rout. The work was done with impartiality and whatsoever Dowieite was dilatory in movement was washed along by the four inch stream, as the Dowieites fled the dry method of attack came once more into favor and the bombardment of eggs and vegetables was resumed and aid materially in clearing the town of the presence of them.

Elder Piper of Dowie's church who had been in command of the small army was arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct. While he was being led into the station men and boys armed with syringes containing dirty water and other liquids more objectionable made him an object of especial attention and he was in a sorry condition when the doors closed behind him.

About twenty other Dowieites were taken into custody, more to save them from the crowd in the streets than for any other reason. The Dowieites say they will return in greater force and the people of Evanston declare that it will only make the next riot just so much the larger.

Two followers of Dowie were injured in the struggle, while another protested afterwards that he had been assaulted and beaten by a policeman after he was locked up.

Canadian Arrested.

New York, July 11.—Joseph Levesque, 34, for whom the Montreal authorities have been looking 10 years, was located and arrested by the Brooklyn police and Chief of Police Carpenter of Montreal, and will be turned over to the Canadian officials as soon as the necessary formalities of extradition can be complied with. Levesque was a trusted employ of the City District bank of Montreal. It is charged that he conspired with another employ by falsifying the accounts, to rob the institution, and the two together managed to get away with upwards of $30,000. Levesque's accomplice is still at large and the police refuse to give his name.

Ellis Must Take Off Her Hat.

Parkersburg, W. Va., July 11.—The third day of the trial of Ellis Glenn charged with forgery only two witnesses were examined. Every legal point is being bitterly fought and it may take weeks to try the case as there are over 100 witnesses to examine. Judge Stapleton made a ruling that Ellis will have to sit during the remainder of the trial with her hat and veil removed from her head and face. This pleased the people in the crowded court room, as they have been desirous of seeing her.

Careful Prescription Work

Have you ever thought what that means? Suppose your tailor would make a suit from shoddy cloth. The clothes wouldn't hang or wear well even though cut correctly. So in prescriptions good service means more than being careful about weights and measures. It means carefulness long before your prescription is brought to us. It means that we have been careful as to purity when buying chemicals, and have exercised care in making all those liquid medicines which we keep ready for use on our shelves and in our closets. We are careful in every step of prescription work.

PICNIC

Given in Honor of Fresh Air Children at Pataskala—Return to Columbus Saturday.

Pataskala, O., July 11.—A picnic is being held at the fair ground today in honor of the the "fresh air" children who are here from Columbus. The children will return to the city on Saturday.

The youngsters who are being entertained in the families of people of Pataskala and vicinity have been enjoying themselves immensely, and they have been behaving well. Two boys, however, tired of their stay before they had fairly arrived and walked back to Columbus. There are 50 in the Pataskala party.
